The story of a cuitous fight between a water buffalo and a tiger comes from Ulu Labu in Sungel Ulong. A Malay, serving in the Selangor Police owned a herd of twenty goals and a few buffaloer. All the goats, save one, were tsken by a tiger, which then turned its attention to the large stock. On the appearance of the tiger the buffaloes scattered. But one young bull stood its ground, and a most glorious fight ensued which several Malays profess to have witnessed. Again and again the tiger sprang on to the neck of the buffalo; but the latter guarded his throat well, and rolled so vigorously that the tiger each time was forced to reliequish its hold. Someone produced a gun, but, the fighters struggled so closely and moved to rapidly that no body ventured a shot. This royal baltle is said to have lasted full four hours; and at the end of that time the liger was dead with every bone in its-body broken. The buffalo was badly mauled. With innumerable scars and nearly all the flesh torn from his face, the plucky beast looked; offcous of ject; but according to latest accounts he is likely to recover. The body of the tiger has been taken to Seremban for the reward offered by Government.—Strafts Times.

At the monthly meeting of the General Committee of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce, held at 3 p.m. on Thursday, the 1st September,-Present : Messrs. R. M. MINUTES. The Minutes of the previous Meeting (held on the 9th August) were read and confirmed. THE CUSTOMS AND THE COLONY.

Agreeably to notice previously given, Hon. T. H. Whitehead, in a speech of some length, moved the following resolutions :-

1.-That the continued existence of the Imperial Chinese Masitime Customs in Hongkong, of Customs stations in the immediate neighbourhood of the Colony, and of Chinese steam cruisers and launches in Hongkong waters is a zerlous interference with the freedom of Commerce and a great impediment to the development of the tra'e of the Colony, especially of the trade in native vessels, and inflicts r grave in jury on British prestige and credit in the ayes of our Chinese subjects.

2.—That the Imperial Chinese Gevernment should be required to remove its Customs establishments from Hongkong, Kowloon, and the immediate neighbourhood of the Colony, and should be require to collect its Customs duties like all other nations in its own ports and not at stations specially established for the surveillance of the trade of Hongkong, and

3.-- That if the existing Customs establishments and stations are withdrawn, the Hongkong Government should be required to make such arrangements as will saleguard and completely secore the Imperial Chinese Government from all less by Oplum sumggling into China from Hongkong either by Bonded Warehouses or otherwise as may be found most convenient.

The Chairman seconded to allow of discussion on the question, liter a lengthy discussion, Mr. Jackson proposed, and the Vice-Chairman seconded, the following resolutions as an amend-

1.-That the Custums office be no lenger permitted to callect duties in the Colony or its 2.—That all oplum arriving in the Colony be accounted for, either through the agency of Bonded Wirehouses or otherwise. 3.-That the Government do all in their power to protect the Chinese Revenue, more especially with regard to the Oplum Farmer.

4 -That the Revenue Stations and Revenue

craisers be removed beyond the limits of British territory and British waters. The amendment was put to the meeting and carried by a majority, seven voting for it (the Chairman not voting as he had seconded the resolution). It was then unanimously decided to publish the correspondence that had already passed on the subject.

INCREASED RENTAL OF WHARVAS AND PIER. Attention having been directed by the River Steamboat Companies to the great increase suddenly effected by the issue of a notification in the Government Gazette, in the rentals of wharves and plers, a letter was addressed by the Chamber to the Government pointing out the onerous burden the maintenance of a wharf would become when it is non-productive and oul provided for the convenience of the travellin public, and suggesting a revision of the new ALLEGED PROHIBITION AGAINST CHINESE AT MANILA.

The Vice-Chairman asked if members had noticed the statement in the papers to the effect that the American Consul-General had received an Intimation from Manila that no Chinese wil be allowed to land at that port? He thought this was a very important matter.

Mr. Bell-Irving concurred and said that, if put into force, it would practically stop the large passenger trade between Hongkong and Manila, After a brief discussion, it was resolved to awalt official confirmation of the notification before taking action, and consideration of the question was deferred to the next meeting. The second day's proceedings at the Victoria Recreation Club Aquatic Sports were exceedingly interesting. There was again a very large attendance, among those present being Capt. Hastings, R.N. (Retired), the Chairman of the Club. The principal event was, of course, the race for the championship of the Colony, which was an open event. There were six competitors, all members of the Club; J. T. Tootell, K. O. R., whom it was thought had a good chance of wistning, was not present. Victory went to A. A. Alver, last year's champion, who was in the pink of condition and maintained a steady, strong stroke throughout the race. He won by about his own length from Carvalho, who was, hawever, disqualified for not touching the post and therefore the second prize fell to A. E. Alves, a bad third. It was a capital race and the victory of A. A. Alves was very popular. His time was 2 min. 49 secs.—a capital performance.

JAVA NEWS.

(From our own Correspondent.) A native named Bugis was hanged outside the gaol at Meester Comelis, for murder, on the 16th August. Executions in Java are carried out in public, and they are witnessed by tremendous crowds, of netives, and a regular piccic is made of the "gantoong." The colprit was game until he had to mount the steps of the sciffold. When she was on her way to Palos Bay, on the 8th August, she got all at once, at B in the morning, an ash shower and therr-after a rain of mud. It became dark, and the Captain could hardly see in front of him. Not only the darkness bludered the ship in getting along, but, also a heavy sea, which came up and caused a serious accident. The scrang, engaged in making a ladder fast which had broken loose from the heavy role ling of the ship, was struck by a wave and carried overboard. Everything was done to save him. The Captain had buoys thrown out, the engines stopped, the ship turned to look for the drowning man. The darkness and the falling mud hindered their efforts and the man was not found. The Read proceeded to ParéParé. The mud was still falling at It o a.m. On the deck, masts and awaings there was a layer of mud upwards of six inches thick, which gave much trouble in getting it away. It is supposed that the mud came from an active volcano (" yourspuwende" i) on an island in the Gulf of Tomini. The mud and ash came, by a strone easterly wind, over the Celebes to the West Coast. The heavy sea met on the West Coast, when the Read parted, appears to be ascribable to the westerly wind which blew strongly. Further particulars are not known.

DR. EDKINS' JUBILEE.

SHANGHAL September 2nd. Our readers will doubtiess be interested to learn that to-day is the jubiled anniversary of the arrival of Dr. Edkins in Shangbai, Dr. Edkins reached Hongkong in the sailing vessel Peroxepore on the 221d of July 1848, having come to China to engage in mission work under the suspices of the London Mission, but from various causes was unable to reach Shanghai until the and of September. The first ten years of his residence in China were spent in Shanshal, where he did a great deal of useful work. It was during this time that his works on the religious condition of the Chinese, and a grammar of the Shanghal dialect, besides a work on Manderin were published. He went home in 1858, returning in the following year, and in 1861 went to Cheloo, where he only remained for the winter, returning in the following spring to Shanghal. He next undertook a journey to visit the chiefs of the Taipings at Scothow and Nanking, bisides entering into correspondence with Hung Halu-chuen, the "Emperor" of the Talpings, who claimed to be the younger brother of Christ, in the hope of inducing him to adopt the Trinitarian doctrine Dr. Edkins also visited this redoubtable chief, but falling to secure his acceptance of the true doctrine, returned to Shan hal, coming back across country infested by the rebels for the whole of the way, On this journey the doctor was accompanied for part of the time by the Rev. Issuchan Roberts, who had known Hung Hslu-chuen at Canton. The Talping "Emperor" poisoned himself shortly afterwards, just before Nanking was captured by the Imperialist troops. After his return for this fammey, Dr. Edkins was sent to Tientsin, where he lived for about eighteen months, and went to Peking in 1863. After residing for ten years in the capital, he again went home, in 1873, returning to Peking in 1876. While st home on this occasion Dr. Edkins published an introduction to the study of the Chinese character. After his return to Peking in 1873 he was engaged in missionary work until 1881, when he accepted a commission from Sir Robert Hart to translate sixteen primers on bistory and science late Chinese. Dr. Edkins remained in Paking until 1889, when he came back to Shanghal as translator in the Customs service. Since his return here, although his time has necessarily been almost wholly taken up by | Sep. his Customs duties, he has closely identified himself with the work of the London Mission, and has carnestly studied the intricacies of the Buddhist and Tacist religions. Literary Shanghal owes a debt of gratitude to Dr. Edkins in that he was one of the founders of the China Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society, and was its first secretary in Shanghal. A's is well-known, Dr. Edk'ns has been for many years a most valued contributor to our columns while he has made himself famous all over the world by his studies in philology and etymology. His contilbutions to the proceedings of the Royal Asiatic Society have been extensive and very valuable, while he is one of the first living Sinologue. - N. C.
